ST. GEORGE.

GEORGE WOODWARD HONORED Exercises Expressing Appreciation Given by School Children.

St. George, Washington Co., Jan. 31. A very nice welcome was tendered Geo. Woodward, after whom our public school has been named on account of his liberal contributions to this other public improvements, at the school building by the sixth grade, conucted by Joseph Walker, yesterday aternoon. There was a large attendance of parents and citizens. The following program was carried out:

Singing, "My Temple of Learning,"

Address ... Prof. A. B. Christensen.
Recitation, "Psalm of Life,"... Mr. Woodbury
Address ... Prest. E. H. Snow
Song, "The Bridge,"

...... By the School The building was nicely decorated, he walls being hung with lifesize drawings of the most prominent men of America, while upon an easel, picely framed, rested a lifesize portrait of the honored guest. The speakers eulogized E.der Woodward, and being of a tenler and sympathetic disposition he was so overcome that he was scarcely able to speak his appreciation.

His benefactions for ecclesiastical and educational purposes would easily reach $9,000, not including tithing or other contributions required by the Church. Among his important bene-factions is a gift of $2,500 to the school which bears his name, and the heating which will reach a total cost of not less than $1,000. Scarcely a worthy institution of a public nature has been started without his assistance. Would that we had more men among us like Elder Woodward.

THINGS EASY.

pecial Correspondence. Washington, Jan. 29 .- Congress is noving with great deliberation, more o than for several sessions past, when he desire seemed to be to crowd bills ong before this time. So far but two appropriation bills have passed the House, the pension and deficiency. Jpon both of these bills there was no lmit of debate. Every man who wanted to talk had an opportunity. All the time that was desired for general lebate was granted, and any topic could be introduced and discussed. There has been no rush. More than this, the House adjourns over a day or two each, week simply because there is nothing to do. Yet there is plenty of work ahead. The census bill is yet to be considered, then there is the Cuin reciprocity, the repeal of the war axes, the Philippine government bill, he oleomargarine bill, some pure food ills and all the appropriation bills. If he same easy program is followed with Il these measures that has been taken with bills heretofore considered, the prospects are for a long session. The ly measures which have been rushed the House were the Philippine tariff ill and the Nicaragua canal bill, but he speed has not availed much in either case. The Senate took its own time to consider the Philippine bill in committee and is doing the same with the canal bill. Both these measures will be debated at great length in the Senate.

APPARENTLY NOT UNEASY Usually the majority party in Congress is anxious to push legislation through rapidly in order that the mem-bers may get home so as to go into seen a Congress hurry business and adjourn in July, but then there was no such amount of business ahead as at this session. If the actual necessary legislation, such as the appropriation nission to southern Utah, and assisted a laying out and establishing the city of St. George, where he has lived liver else and that there would be a lurking government bill, the canal bill and some other measures which cause so much contention, but the delays of the appropriation bills leads me to think that the managers do not care so very much about a speedy adjournment and the campaigns will be short or made largely from Washington.

CROWDING POOR LO.

Friends of the Indian say that the easing of Indian reservation lands to white men for grazing purposes is simply another move in the direction of crowding the red man and making him discontented. The big reservations have been diminished, which was necessary for them. Now, to lease large tracts of the remaining lands shuts up the Indian too slosely besides interfering with his own stock raising As one man expressed it: "The Indian will go out of the stock raising busi-ress. It will be found that there are no calves for the Indians, while the stockmen's cows will have twins. What chance has the Indian with the average cowboy?" There is a feeling existing that the Indians should not be crowded much more, but that the lands they have should be left to them.

"LOBSTERS" IN THE HOUSE.

The state of Maine usually gets what it goes after, and in the last Congress it secured an appropriation for a lobster station. Now the members want This, together with a demand made by North Carolina the other day for an addition to a fish station started last year, roused the ire of Chairman Can-tion of the appropriations committee, He took up the lobster question and when it suited his purpose used it in the slang sense, making it plain that he thought the crop of "lobsters" was

"We have enough 'lobsters' of a kind now," he said, returning to the slangy term. And the House laughed, but voted in the appropriations just the same HAWAIIAN LEGISLATION.
